

To whom it may concern,

Section Seven letter of recommendation and referral

LexTM3 a QPL'd government manufacturer has been using the Captivator's system automated online government bidding application successfully for over 4 years now on our manufactured items.

Recently we engaged Lee Levinstein to set up, manage and augment our government bidding to include brokerage items.

Lee did an amazing job at recruiting our staff and building a business model that is yielding results in a short period of time.

We have found Lee 's government bid strategies to be of great value and his long-term experience in this area to be instrumental in building this business model through proven practices leveraging his techniques and software.

I would highly recommend Lee Levinstein and the Captivator Systems to anyone wishing to automate the government bidding practice, improve results on an existing practice or create an affective business model.

Thank you
